THE LEADERSHIP EXCELLENCE SERIES

Toastmasters International's The Leadership Excellence Series is a set of presentations addressing the subject of leadership. Members will learn about the skills they will need to be successful leaders inside and outside of Toastmasters.

Presentations in The Leadership Excellence Series may be offered by any club member and require 10 to 15 minutes to present.

CONDUCTING THE PRESENTATION

"Motivating People" discusses how to create and maintain an environment in which team members will become motivated. This product consists of four parts:

- ▶ Definition and explanation of the presentation
- ▶ Guidelines for your introduction to the audience
- ▶ Outline for the development of your speech
- ▶ PowerPoint presentation

In Your Own Words

The outline is not a script and should not be read word-for-word. Instead, use the document as a guide for presenting the material in your own words and with your own narrative style. The outline is a structure on which to build your presentation. Use the points of the outline to develop your speech, but be the author of your own oration.

Here are some tips on using this outline to develop and deliver your presentation:

- ▶ Study the outline carefully. Familiarize yourself with the general structure. Preparation is the key to a successful presentation.
- ▶ Use the outline to build your own speech using your own words. Prepare a set of notes indicating where you wish to pause, gesture, or add special verbal emphasis. Highlight key words or sentences to help you present the material most effectively.
- ▶ Be expressive when delivering your speech. Use all of the presentation skills you have learned as a Toastmaster including vocal variety and gestures.

USING VISUAL AIDS EFFECTIVELY

Visual aids add interest to any presentation and help your audience retain information. If you plan to use the PowerPoint slides for this presentation as visual aids, make sure you have the equipment and technology needed to share the slides with your audience. It is recommended that you test your technology and equipment in advance. In the outline, there are indications for placement of the PowerPoint slides. Each is numbered. For example, V1 refers to the first visual.

Please note that the first slide in the PowerPoint show is a title slide and is not included in this numbering system.

If your presentation is taking place in a fully in-person format but you do not have the equipment needed to share the PowerPoint, you could create a flip chart using the visuals from the slides.

Follow these tips when using visual aids in an in-person setting:

- ▶ Set them up and test them before the meeting begins. Place them so they are easily visible to listeners.
- ▶ Bring backup equipment in case your technology fails.
- ▶ Display your visuals only when they are needed. If you are using a flip chart, flip the page back out of view when you are finished with it.
- ▶ Remember not to stand between the screen or flip chart and your audience or you will block their view.
- ▶ Maintain eye contact with your listeners. If you must turn your back to point out something, pause as you point it out, and then resume speaking only after you are once again facing your audience.

Follow these tips when using visuals in the online or hybrid setting:

- ▶ Share your screen. Be sure your PowerPoint presentation is visible in the room and on the screens of those members participating from another location.
- ▶ Consider having someone else share the visuals so you can maintain eye contact with the camera.
- ▶ Consider an online whiteboard when sharing information, as it will be visible to both members in the room and those participating online.
- ▶ Consider enlisting the assistance of a partner to join the meeting on their computer in the room with you so that they can facilitate the remote attendees and monitor what is happening online. This is a good practice for all hybrid meetings.
- ▶ Test your online platform and technology before the meeting begins. Have an online participant confirm they can see everything as expected.
- ▶ Forgo visual aids altogether if you cannot be sure they will work for everyone in attendance.
- ▶ Share any handouts or other documents you use as part of your presentation with all attendees in advance or via the chat function of your meeting app so that all participants have access to them at the same time.

BENEFITS AND OPPORTUNITIES

By giving this presentation, you will be helping your club build excellence and move toward the possibility of being a Distinguished club—or reaching an even greater Distinguished status.

While this is an outlined presentation, it still provides a good opportunity for you to further practice speaking and build your presentation skills.

MOTIVATING PEOPLE

Introducing the Presenter

TIPS FOR THE PRESENTER: WRITE YOUR INTRODUCTION

All prepared speeches in Toastmasters require an introduction. A proper introduction of you and your speech is important to the success of your presentation. Use the following as a guide in writing your introduction:

- ▶ Include the purpose of The Leadership Excellence Series.
- ▶ Explain why “Motivating People” is important for a Toastmasters club, stating the purpose and one or more objectives of your presentation.
- ▶ Incorporate some background about yourself.
- ▶ Read When You’re the Introducer in A Toastmaster Wears Many Hats (Item 1167D) for further detail on a proper introduction.
- ▶ Give your finished introduction to the person who will be introducing you.

TIPS FOR THE INTRODUCER

- ▶ Ask the presenter any clarifying questions.
- ▶ Rehearse the introduction.

MOTIVATING PEOPLE

Outline

INTRODUCTION

Motivating people is a complex undertaking. Leaders must understand what motivates team members and then use this understanding to create and maintain an environment where team members have the opportunity to fulfill their personal motives, wants, and desires while contributing to a larger enterprise.

Even though a leader provides the appropriate environment and encourages team members toward motivation, it is the individual who sparks their own momentum. But a successful leader understands what these sparks are and uses them to develop reward systems that match team members' values.

Following are some things that motivate people:

- ▶ Money
- ▶ Praise
- ▶ Public recognition
- ▶ More responsibility
- ▶ Promotion

Presenter:

Facilitate a discussion about ways to motivate volunteers. Write ideas on a flipchart.

MATCH SKILLS TO JOBS

Every individual has talents and skills. Part of a leader's job is to support these skills by directing team members toward jobs that fit their skills. In doing so, the leader further motivates team members by providing the opportunity to use their natural skills.

REWARD PROPERLY

Recognizing positive behavior should be done carefully.

- ▶ Recognize immediately. Reward someone as soon as possible after the achievement. This encourages repetition of the behavior.
- ▶ Reward only the desired behavior. Reward only the behavior that you want, and reward only when the person or team performs better than the standard.
- ▶ Address undesirable behavior. Ignoring poor performance sends the message that it is acceptable and the poor performance will continue. Other team members who do perform well will become discouraged.

- ▶ Eliminate obstacles. Environmental factors can cause problems for and frustrate a team. Removing these impediments can create a more positive work environment for the team.

CONCLUSION

When a leader understands what inspires individual team members to perform well and rewards them appropriately, team members will be committed to the leader's goals and willing to work hard to achieve them.

*If your actions inspire others to dream more, learn more,
do more and become more, you are a leader.*
